LEADERS' CAMP-CONFERENCE HELD AT WAIALUA

Thirty-four club-leaders and staff members of the Palama Recreation Department attended the Joint Leaders' Camp-Conference held November 4-5 at Waialua. Settlement director Dr. Philip S. Platt headed the fine delegation of recreation and club workers which convened at Palama's beautiful seashore camp and accomplished much in conference and social activities.

Two joint discussions on topics selected by the program committee gave all present opportunity to express and contribute view-points. A scheduled lecture by Dr. Faith Gordon, noted visiting psychiatrist and sociologist, failed to materialized when an unfortunate mishap in transportation robbed the leaders off the pleasure.

Chairman Kent Nakamura opened the discussion panel Saturday night by presenting the subject "What Makes For Better Cooperation In The Recreation Department." After free expression of opinions from the floor, Nakamura closed the session with a summarization of what had transpired. The first conference went on record as agreeing that joint activities (picnics, projects, socials, etc.) make for cooperation between the boys' and girls' divisions.

Gordon Virgo, manager of the Waialua Agricultural Company and one of Palama's pioneer workers, led the group in singing immediately following the discussion. Mr. Virgo also gave the assembly a running word-picture of the Settlement's history and humble beginning.

Sarah Kim led the second discussion Sunday afternoon on "Essentials Of A Leader." Following lengthy debates, the conference adjourned standing pat on the findings that neat appearance, good personality, and training are a few essentials of a club-leader.

Present at the camp-conference were Dr. Philip S. Platt, Reed Maxson, Henry Wong, Ernest Lum, William Lum, Esther Lee, Irene Hee, Blase Comacho, Jimmy West, Mary Pitman, Uarda Newsom, Joan de Vis Norton, Violet Rho, Sarah Kim, Frances Yamada, June Lee, Lai Ing Chang, James Koo, Raymond Choo, Kent Nakamura, Sylvester Abili, Wilber S. Wood, Robert Vieira, Harry Lee, Charles Oh, George Nakano, Mary Park, Robert Lee, Audrey McAllister, Yukie Hirakawa, Esther Ahn, Marilyn Young, Fern Bostrum, Winifred Cheong, and William Gee.

PALAMA MODEL IN HAW'N PRODUCTS SHOW TONITE

A large majority of Honolulu's population will jam Pier 11 tonight to witness the grand opening of the Junior Chamber of Commerce's 10th Annual Hawaiian Products Show which promises to exceed all others in color, pageantry, and representation of truly Hawaiian products.

But to Settlement employees, the whole show will be the Palama booth, donated by a trustee of the Settlement, which is featuring a beautiful model of Palama Settlement built to scale.

The model, a splendid work, has been widely acclaimed where-ever it was exhibited. Admiring crowds have seen it on display at the Library of Hawaii, Bank of Hawaii, and Lewers & Cooke, Limited. Following its showing as a Hawaiian product, the model may be seen at the Territorial Tax Offices for two weeks.

NYA workers from the boys' and girls' divisions will alternate in reporting for duty at the booth for the duration of the Products Show.

PAL BOXERS TO SHOW AGAINST KAHUKUS SATURDAY

Palama Settlement's amateur leather-tossers will journey to Kahuku Plantation this Saturday evening, November 11, to trade wallops with the strong Kahuku boxing squad in a dual smoker slated to climax a big Armistice Day celebration.

The dual-meet will mark the first showing of the Pals for the season and will be a fair indication of their strength. Another smoker has been scheduled, against the powerful CYO stable, Saturday, November 20, in the Palama ring.

HUI ALIIS SCORE TWIN 110# CAGE VICTORIES

Raymond Choo's Hui Aliis finished their schedule in a blaze of glory by scoring two victories last week in the closing tussles of Palama Settlement's 110# basketball league. Tonight's twin-bill will officially lower the curtain on the circuit's activities.

The Aliis walloped Castle A. C. 22-13 Tuesday, October 31, behind the fine shooting of Eddie Lum, who manufactured 11 points, Suenaga, and Raymond.

Toyo A. C. succumbed to the deadly sniping of Hui Alii Thursday, November 2, by going down 37-25 in a hard-fought game. Suenaga paced the Aliis with 10 points, while Eddie Lum bagged six, Sumida seven, and Lee four. Toyo's Lee tallied eight points. Toyo A. C. led 19-17 at half-time but were swamped in the ensuing period.

MARATHONERS IN TRAINING FOR BIG EVENTS

Louis Mendonca's Palama marathon team has opened serious training for the big events of the local road-running season. The first objective is the annual Diamond Head five-mile run sponsored by the United YMCA on New Year's Day. Palama Settlement's Around-Oahu Marathon Relay in January, and the AAU runs in May are other big events.

The Pals are defending Around-Oahu Relay champions, and perennial contenders for the Diamond Head and AAU titles. Again leading the Westsiders are Norman Tamanaha, Albert Chun, Burton Hooper, and William Badjadalli, the big four in Palama's long list of marathon running stars.

A gem cannot be polished without friction, nor a man perfected without adversity.

120# CAGEBALL OPENERS SLATED THURSDAY

Palama Settlement's 120# basketball league will shed its wraps Thursday, November 9, with a scheduled triple-bill in the Westside gym. Hui Aliis will tackle Kam Heights at 7:00 o'clock, followed by the Alex Sandwich Shop-Kamaaina Vikings tilt at 7:45, and the Kaheka A.C.-Palms A.C. fracas at 8:30 p.m.

The 135# league openers are slated for Sunday, November 12, with a five-game attraction in the offing.

Twenty clubs are registered in the 120# league, and 11 in the 135# loop, necessitating their segregation into sections. Teams listed under Section "A" in the 120# division, with Monday as their playing night, are Nuuanu A.C., Westsiders, Kaahumanu, Tsuki-No-Kai, Castle A.C., and McCully YMA. Section "B" teams include Pirates "B", Higuchi Tailors, Dwight's, M.I.A., Nomads, Kamamalu Maroons, and McInerny. Outfits playing in Section "C" are Kam Heights, Kamaaina Vikings, Palms A.C., Kaheka A.C., Alex Sandwich Ship, Hui Aliis, and Pirates "A". Section "B" will perform on Tuesday evenings.

McInerny, Kaahumanu, Castle A.C., Honolulu Vocational School, and Musa Shiya are grouped under Section "A" in the 135# league, while Abell's Crusaders, Pirates, Diamond Packers, Elfs A.C., Kamamalu A.C., and Kaheka A.C. are Section "B" teams.

Defending champions are Elmo Tomita's Kamamalu Maroons (Club Billiard Parlor) in the 120# conference, and Tommy Wong's Pirates in the 135# circuit.

Schedules for all sections for the opening round follow:
