As It Happened:

Hike to Pupukea Gardens (but awfully rainy)
Ratio of 1 leader to 8 children
Walked in groups and in one straight row

Tips to remember:

Check with weather man for hiking or outing site.

Be sure to have first aid equipment

Be sure to take water along if not sure of water areas.

Bring equipment like balls, jump rope and other games that could be used.

Memo on jackets was very important because one can never foretell the weather.

Parents should be called early enough to act as leaders. They may have fun in the process of doing it.

For picnics call on Mrs. Fujita (Carol's mother)

Check on wide age range of children and be sure to accommodate entire age group.

Have song sheets along so that all the children can sing together and have leaders equipped with "game" songs that could be played on the truck.

Leaders should stick with their assigned groups regardless of number.

Always have a leader in the front and a leader in the last of the line.

How about a picnic to the beach to start with because children have to learn gradually what hiking is all about in order to realize the values of it. This hike was a new experience but the children didn't realize nor understand what all the walk was about because they didn't have the chance to realize the beauty of hiking and didn't get to see and realize anything tangible.
