CHRISTMAS ACTIVITIES

Christmas is always a busy week for the children as well as the staff. The children were kept busy making Christmas decoration for the tree as well as making extras to take home. Every child made their own gift for their mother. The youngest group made a sprig arrangement. The 4's made dried arrangements while the 5's did finger painting and made Christmas wrapping paper.

EXCURSIONS

The children were taken to see the Christmas display at the Liberty House and to see Santa Claus. The thing that attracted their interest most was the electric train display. One of the workers ran the train and the children were fascinated at the various things that happened. The train going over bridges and through tunnels, the signal lights going on and off, the whistle blowing, etc. The group was also taken to the St. Andrews Cathedral to see the stained glass windows.

SPECIAL EVENTS:

A Christmas program was planned on Dec. 16 at 9:45 A. M. The parents were invited to the program and the attendance was very good. There were about 40 parents present. After the program, a surprise package was given to all the children. The package was filled with fruits, nuts, cookies, and toys. At this time the gifts for the parents were distributed by the children.

The evening program was given especially for the benefit of the fathers and those who were not able to attend in the morning. This was planned by the Parents' Committee which turned out to be a great success. Instead of the usual pot-luck supper, a simple refreshment was served after the program. The program began at 7:00 P. M. at the pre-school. Many of the parents came early and by 7:00 the building was filled with parents and children. I believe it was the largest attendance we have ever had. Perhaps it was the result of individual contact made by the committee through phone. Each parent was invited to attend this affair. The parents donated cookies and cakes and the school provided the punch. Mr. Henry Epstein acted as Master of Ceremonies. The University cadets opened the program with a puppet show. One of the things we were successful in doing was to have the parents actually participate in the program. A comical skit of "The Night Before Christmas" was given. The parents who participated were:

Mr. Kanemoto	father
Mrs. Walter Shiigi	mother
Children	Gwendy Mink, Abram Boido, Arthur Shiigi
Mr. George Branco	Santa Claus
Mrs. Pang & Mrs. Yap	Properties

The program ended with the distribution of grab gifts by Santa Claus. There were many complimentary remarks by the parents saying that it was the best program they had seen.

This Christmas we were very fortunate to have several toys, bicycles, scooters, dolls, books, etc. donated by the volunteer Service Bureau. The children are using the toys and are enjoying them immensely.
