Beginners Band Progress - Lloyd Nakahara

The band has reached the end of its daily lesson book. I am, therefore, requesting new materials. We can do nothing but repeat lessons, I have asked the students if they would like to purchase supplementary material themselves so that we could continue instead of repeating lessons. They have received parental permission, so we will probably purchase the material soon. This however, will not suffice, and so we must have new books in order to progress.

The playing abilities of the pupils is much better than average; also, their musical knowledge. Another test will be administered soon.
