In-Community Treatment Program

Robert Meneses - "I don't know about this program so I say that it's junk."

Guy Oshiro - "It's good because you have to do your work, it's not like the outside school which you can cut out. It's better cause you get more education."

Jonathan Castillo - "I think it's heavy. It helps you learn. It's also a bargain cause you do work and they give you lunch money. You learn about the same education as public school. It can also help you to go back to school, in which I really want to."

Elmer Nakiso - "I'm tired of coming school. It's a cool place if you dig the trip."

Here is an article on the In-Community Treatment Program. According to some of the boys that are in this program, have comments to say. Robert Meneses says that he doesn't know about the program, so it's junk to him. Guy Oshiro, one of the G.G.I. boys says that it's good because you have to do your work, it's not like the outside school in which you can cut out. It's better because you get more education. Jonathan Castillo another G.G.I. boy says I think it's heavy. It helps you learn. It's also a bargain cause you do work and they give you lunch money. You learn about the same education as a public school. It can also help you to go back to school in which I really want to. Elmer Nakiso distinctly says that he's tired of coming to school and it is a cool place if you dig the trip.

POEMS TO READ

The Cat and the Mouse

I want to eat you Mr. Mouse
Please Mr. Cat don't eat me, don't you have any pity.
Yes, I have pity but not for you,
besides I'm hungry
Well I have pity for you Mr. Cat cause if you eat me you will become sick Oh, is that so Mr. Mouse, thanks for letting me know.
You're welcome Mr. Cat
Let's be friends

AFRICAN SUNRISE

Sky
Over the last star;
The parrot-winds
Sharp-weaked with yellow
Nipping the wuched date palms ...

Now the camels
Open their beeswax eyes
And raise long necks,
Ruttet sound in their throats ...
Camels, poking, marking the sand with spredleness,
Lifting the order of under-body with them.

Sun -----
The burn of it
Hot-coined to each eyelid
And desert-stretched the caravan of hours not yet begun.

RAIN!

I don't like Rain, it's too cold and damp
I like to watch the rain, it's so cool and clear
But when it drops in your ear, then you have the feeling of fear,
But as much as I dislike rain, I come to realize we can't live without it.
