PAL JUNIORS BOW TO HAIKU IN BITTER GAME

Coach Peter St. Sure's Haiku Red Raiders, 140 $\frac{1}{2}$  barefoot football champions of Maui, added the territorial title to their list of achievements Sunday afternoon at the Honolulu Stadium, by upsetting the Oahu-champion Pal Juniors 6-0 in a bitterly fought game.

Harry Murakami's Moiliiliis exceeded the fondest hopes of their backers by scoring a brilliant 14-0 victory over Pioneer Mill. This game preceded the Haiku-Palama tussle and carried with it the territorial 125 $\frac{1}{2}$  championship.

Haiku sewed up the ball game early in the fourth quarter on a 15 yard pass into the goal zone. Both teams had battled each other to a standstill prior to the touchdown. Palama lost golden opportunities to strike "pay-dirt" in the second period when the hard-charging Maui forwards stopped them on three occasions within the shadow of the goal-posts.

A big feature of the game was the spectacular punting of "Mongoose" Leandro, Palama booter. Time and again, the elongated Maroon back kicked his team out of danger and backed the opposition into holes.

The 125 $\frac{1}{2}$  battle was marked by the air-tight defenses of both Moiliili and Pioneer Mill. Murakami's charges connected twice via the aerial route to gain the margin of victory.

MAVERICKS FIGURE IN HI-Y CONFERENCE

The Maverick Club of Palama Settlement figured prominently in the Nineteenth Annual Territorial Hi-Y and Older Boys' Conference sponsored by the local YMCA, November 26th, 27th, and 28th, on the Punahou Campus. Members of the club participated actively in group discussions and other phases of the conference.

Dr. W. O. Mendenhall, president of Whittier College in California, was the guest speaker of the conference, and his talks on "Life's Problems" made profound impressions upon the picked Hi-Y representatives gathered to hear him.

Mavericks present were James Koo, Francis Sing, Melvin Jr., Wai Cheong Chun, Bertrand Chun, Albert Kam, Robert Higa, John Sur, Joseph Park, Edwin Yang, John Ahn, Robert Kau, Roy Iwasaki, and Richard Lee.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

The Tuberculosis Association of Hawaii's annual Christmas Seal Sale under the direction of Homer A. Chamberlin, is being accorded fine support by residents in Hawaiian territory. The T.B. Association staff worked late all last month, including Saturdays, Sundays, and special holidays, assimilating data and checking the seals for mailing.

Victims of the disease in the territory will benefit directly from the sale, but proceeds will also be used to insure protection and prevention for thousands of school children.

The Christmas Seal is symbolic of a worthy undertaking! Back it up by buying your share tomorrow.

TRIANGULAR BOXING SMOKER SLATED MONDAY

Westside amateur boxing fans will get their first real taste of simon-pure fighting Monday evening, December 6th, at 8:00 o'clock, when Palama Settlement, Citywide A.A., and the St. Patrick boxing clubs meet in a star-studded triangular smoker in the Palama gym. General Admission has been set at 25¢ with reserved seats selling at 40¢.

All three stables boast of top-notch performers who have proven their mettle in previous battles. The St. Patrick club loom as the potential winner of the meet on the strength of its brilliant roster. Mercado, Ledesma, and Miller are fighting under the St. Patrick colors. Citywide's power is unknown, although "Timo" Phillips can always be depended upon to produce a formidable outfit. Winged P boxers are green, but have been developing rapidly under Walter Cho, and should give good accounts of themselves. Takeji Maruya is the Pal kingpin.

MARATHONERS ROUNDING INTO FINE CONDITION

Palama marathon runners are rounding into fine condition under Coach Louis Mendonca as the local long-distance running season approaches. Members of the Pal squad are pounding the roads daily with victory on New Year's Day in the five mile Diamond Head Run as their immediate objective. The entire team travel the course every Sunday morning to check pace and progress.

CLUB NEWS

THE KOREAN MIDGETS celebrated Thanksgiving in the approved style last Wednesday night at their club party. Homemade pumpkin pies, and punch combined with an evening of games and songs left little to be desired and, no doubt, accounted for the 100 per cent attendance. Clever turkey place-cards made in the club craft project last week gave the party table just the right touch and proved that, without a doubt, the Korean Midgets are almost "tops" in the Palama club program.

THE MANILA CLUB, latest group to be added to our club register, report the election of club officers and an interesting club program for Filipino midgets. Christina Palma heads the group as president with Mary Paquera in the vice president chair, Lucy Gabriel keeping club minutes, and Olympia Baramen in charge of club funds. All Filipino Midgets are invited to attend the club meetings on Wednesday afternoons at 2:30 and join in the good times. The girls have just completed very attractive autograph books and the next craft project will find them busy with clever serpentine coasters, boxes and knick-nacks. Mrs. Dizon has been helping the girls with their native dance number for the Likelike carnival December 11th and all in all--the Manila Club promises to become one of our most popular groups. Remember---Wednesday, 2:30 p.m. and all Filipino Midgets are invited!

PALAMA GIRLS ATHLETIC CLUB members have decided on a service project for December that really deserves a big hand. The girls have observed that any number of people using Palama facilities have neglected to renew their memberships or yell loudly when their part payment cards do not allow them full membership privileges. To see is to act with this up and coming Palama club so the girls have firmly resolved to hunt down and bring in one new Palama membership for each club-girl. Part payments and expirals had better take care--or the P.G.A.C.'s "will get you if you don't watch out!"

SPORT NOTES

Never let it be said that Palama girls won't try almost anything. The Thanksgiving Day Quarter Mile Canal Race found Bernice Meheula, Frances Taum and Lulu Kea upholding Palama colors and even though the long grueling swim ended with none of our girls placing the plucky swimmers battled the current and waves to the bitter end. A few more trials and canal winners will have to look to their laurels -- Palama girls are on the up and up!

The Monthly Swimming Meet Saturday will give winners a chance to add to their growing collection of points for Palama letters and athletic club membership. Events are graded for ages and the more experienced swimmers are given a handicap so everyone has a chance. Enter and try your luck -- it's fun and you never can tell--perhaps you'll place this month!

School Swim Club girls are keeping Mrs. West busy these days as the entire enrollment works hard on the Red Cross Beginners Buttons. But the other schools are fast qualifying and we expect a nice collection of the Red Cross awards by Xmas.

Shuffle Board has taken Palama by storm lately. Interest is so high that Mrs. West has enlisted Nelson's assistance in getting a permanent court painted in the girls' gym--so just have patience a little longer!

With Volleyball over and Liliuokalani proudly claiming winner honors, the sport dial turns to Basketball for Palama girls. No definite school league has been arranged but Palama Juniors are open for challenges. Would be team members are urged to report to Mrs. West at the weekly practice periods Monday afternoon at 3 p.m.

SOCIAL DANCING

Seniors and adults who have been attending the Thursday evening social dance class will be glad to learn that the class will be continued. Miss Singlehurst, helpful instructor for the the past 6 months, is having to give up the class and we have been searching frantically for another teacher. Fortunately, Miss Rose Shon has offered her services and we are sure that the dancers will find her perfectly capable of teach-

COMMUNITY NIGHT TREAT

With Thanksgiving falling on the last Thursday of this month the regular November Community Night party was postponed until Friday, December 3rd. However, the senior crowd is due for a special treat to make up for any disappoint they may have felt over missing out on a Thanksgiving party.

Dr. Platt is constantly on the lookout for special programs and treats for Palama and he has snatched a prize in the Lyric Ensemble scheduled for the first part of the Friday night affair. The Ensemble is composed of a group of 50 singers who will offer an hour's musical program crammed with choice selections. The Ensemble rates high in Honolulu musical circles and has appeared in Academy programs so we are indeed lucky to have them with us.

After the musical treat, seniors and adult guests will adjourn to the girls' clubrooms for table games, dancing and refreshments. Those of you who have attended Community Night programs know what fun is in store--for new comers we can only advise that you really can't afford to miss these monthly get-togethers.

LIKELIKE CARNIVAL

Three Palama girls clubs are offering a helping hand to Likelike School next week when they present three dances as part of the School Carnival on December 11th. Miss Couch invited Palama to enter a few nationality numbers and the Korean midgets, Little Friends and Manila Club stepped right up to offer their services. The girls have been practising for several weeks now and we know that Palama will be proud of their dances.
