

Honolulu Advertiser (for release in Sunday's art section)

Miss Helen Gipson, of the Punahou Music School, has kindly donated her services to the Palama Settlement Music school, according to an announcement by Miss Dorothy Chun, director of the Palama Music School.

Miss Gipson hails from Minnesota and is a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory and College. She received her master of music degree from Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois.

Miss Gipson has studied with Robert Casadesus, famous French pianist; Stanley Chapple, Head of the Music Department at University of Washington; Louise Robyn, American Conservatory; William Lindsay, University of Minnesota. In addition, ^{she} studied for a year in London, England.